The Testing/ADA Coordinator's Office is responsible for assisting in arranging accommodations and for identifying resources at Washburn Tech for persons with disabilities. Qualified students with disabilities must register with the office to be eligible for services. New requests for accommodations should be submitted two months or more prior to the date services should begin; however, contact the Testing/ADA Coordinator's Office as soon as a need may arise. Depending on the accommodation request, four to eight weeks lead time may be needed for timely and effective provision of services.

Several of the Washburn Tech program areas require background checks, drug screening, and/or a valid driver's license prior to being eligible for employment in those fields. Although you may be admitted into and even complete a Washburn Tech program, you may not be employable in the field if you don't meet employer eligibility standards. If you have questions or concerns regarding the clearances that may be required of you for employment in any of the Washburn Tech program fields, please request clarification from a Washburn Tech admission counselor.

Student safety is of the utmost importance to Washburn Tech. Many medications, prescribed or other, may interfere with your physical and/or mental abilities, putting you and/or others at risk of injury. If you are currently taking any such medications, please explain now. If, at any time, you are taking any medications that could possibly cause impairment, report this to your instructor immediately. _____

In case of serious illness or accident, Washburn Tech is authorized to call an ambulance and I will assume any financial responsibilities. Yes _____ No _____

My hospital preference is _____.

I have read and understand the above statements, and how they apply to me as a prospective student and employee. If accepted as a student at Washburn Tech, I agree to abide by the rules and regulations of the school regarding conduct, tuition and fees, and other obligations. I understand that any misrepresentation or falsification of application information could lead to my dismissal.
